

October News

Grace Lutheran Preschool News:

The Green Room Preschool has started with lots of wonderful children learning and growing and enjoying their time with us.

Children are playing and working with materials or other children. We weave these thematic ideas into our daily activities through literature, art, discovery (science and math). Dramatic play, gross motors and small motor play, snack, along with small groups activities and circle time. Each day there will be process oriented art projects planned for the children. The paint easel and the art supply shelves are always open during center time for the children to pursue their own creative ideas.

Scholastic Book Orders

We will continue to send Scholastic Book orders home monthly. When you order from the flyer, you have an opportunity to purchase books at an affordable price while helping our preschool program earn free books for our class libraries. Feel free to talk to your child's if you have any further questions. Remember, books make wonderful gifts for birthdays or the upcoming holidays.

Conferences

We will begin evaluating your children to get ready for conferences throughout the month of October. Please watch for more information on this. Conferences will be held on November 9th and 10th.

Wrapping it Up...

We want to say thanks for our preschool parents for all the help with our first month of school. You have been a tremendous help remembering things, sending things and most importantly sending us well-rested and eager young children. This group of children is amazing us each day with their questions and enthusiasm to learn more whatever we are studying. Mrs. Chris and Mrs. Nancy may have to go back to school to stay ahead of the them!

Remember you can email or ask any questions, if you need anything. Thanks again for all your help already this year, we are off to such a wonderful start!
